

Turnkey Project Coordination Services for Extrusion

A single point of contact, a multitude of solutions

In today's complex manufacturing environment, communicating and working with a multitude of various specialists can be a drain on an owner's time and resources. Bachelor Controls — in conjunction with some of the best vendors, contractors and equipment manufacturers in the industry — provides turnkey project coordination services for the extrusion industry, transferring the risk and resources of the owner onto our team.

Communicate with a Single Contact

Communication with a single source off-loads the project management and details onto the BCI Team, freeing up ownership and management to focus on running the business. BCI strives to establish and communicate a clear vision of what is to be accomplished, then manage events, coordinate specialists and proactively work to gather the information necessary to move the project forward.

Transfer the Risk

Today's market pressures and consumer demands have many owners under the gun. The BCI Team leverages years of experience and expertise to deliver the latest in extrusion process technologies on time and within budget, allowing ownership and management to shift project risk and responsibility to the BCI Team.

Total Cost of Ownership (TCO)

Thorough project analysis, a well-structured project methodology, careful and systematic testing, along with proactive communication and schedule management are the trademarks of a BCI-managed project. In managing nearly 1,800 projects, the BCI Team has learned that spending time up-front to better understand the project saves time and money on the back end of the project. With a vision in place and good communication throughout all phases, the BCI Team consistently provides the best value through start-up.
